

Earth Song

by Jeanne Love

Rain. Thunder.
magnificent Lightening.
Clearing. Cleansing.
Healing a once darkened
Circle of Light.

Ancestors.

Military. Native. Pioneer.
collectives of Light and Love
Strolling the Heavens above us
Washing Us Clean.

Erasing Erasing Erasing

Memories. Incidents. Events.
Sorrow. Grief.
Harsh realities of mis-adventures
darkened this world once;
Now it is being Reclaimed,
Restructured, Blessed and Rebuilt.

Darkening Skies
only a Temporary color
to wash away
Guilt, Shame and Pain
of a visible past.

Tides turning, colors returning.
Evidence
of massacres eliminating from the Energy blueprint of this Golden Land.

Peace. Peace-filled. Peace Pipe

Smoke Streams
from
the invisible ceremonies
of spirit dances
Recreating
a new TRUTH
a new WORLD.

The Ancient Ones
Singing
their Birth song,
Dancing
within the clouds of earth
and
in our Self-Discovery of Light
we understand
what it truly means
"To Be Saved."

Mother Ship
manages,
holds a steady course.
The spotters
release from her,
floating
gently
to earth,
making their way into the ground
like young seedlings'
first glimpse of morning sun.

The urgency Rests now.

We have come Completed
and Returned her land
to those who have created
this Garden.

Those psychic Earth Gardeners
who have traveled
across cosmic skies
to check on
and tend to their young.

We
are not young;
but old, Knowing,
returning to help the process,
to make It so.

How Did We Do?

What have we Learned?
Regained?

Only the Knowledge that
ONENESS
is
the blueprint for Life
And That
Love Is Truly ALL There Is.

Jeanne Love has been studied by scientists in the Palo Alto area working on the phenomenon of channeling and subsequently written about in Jon Klimo's book: Channeling. She has participated in Native American ceremonies, written about the passages of those who have left this earth world, written songs to promote healing and awakening, held numerous workshops, private sessions and lectures to promote the awakening of consciousness to its higher purpose and potential.

Ms. Love's work is International as she has shared her skills in Japan, Switzerland and Canada. John Fuller, the author of the Ghost of Flight 401 and the Airmen Who Wouldn't Die, stated that Ms. Love was one of the best psychics he had ever experienced in his travels and work around the world.

Jeanne's current projects include: the development of the Sacred Geometry sound codes as they connect through the energy of the dodecahedron, advancing consciousness as a direct channel with the indigenous grandmothers, and writing her workbook: Advancing The Soul... The How To of clearing trauma from all life experiences.

The Ho'oponopono remains one of the most powerful tools in Jeanne's repertoire for healing. But it is Jeanne's intuitive skills which aid her clients the most as she sees, clears, and then reconnects her clients' from their broken and traumatized elements into wholeness.

Through the healing power of sound Jeanne is able to bring in and direct the powerful energies of certain advanced healing frequencies. It is her goal to help all who seek freedom from lifetimes of pain and suffering to realize their freedom from old programs and to learn how to rewrite their sacred stories.

Jeanne Love

Living an Inspired Life

Raised as a Quaker, educated at the University of the Pacific and Whittier College, Jeanne Love speaks and lives her training of peaceful co-existence. Feeling the presence of spirit as a very young child, Jeanne has spent her life seeking to know God; to understand this earth world, as well as, to help herself and others manifest the flow of spiritual balance and expression through God's Love and Grace.
